My team disagrees.

WHAT'S HAPPENING?

You all care about the project. That's good. But you're arguing instead of building.

TRY THIS

1. One minute each. Each person explains their idea. No interrupting.
2. Ask: "Which one can we test fastest?"
3. Try that one for 15 minutes. Then look at what happened. You can try the other one next.

STILL STUCK?

Build both, small. Split into two mini-teams for 15 minutes, then show each other. Or do rock-paper-scissors. Seriously. Moving fast beats being perfect.
